CALL FOR PAPERS

The University is working in close collaboration and partnership with COMADEM International and aims for this event to be the premier international event for industrialists, scientists and exhibitors worldwide. The Congress will give you a unique opportunity to compare scientific and technical achievements with each other to determine how good they are internationally.

Novel Features Secured:

- Editor in Chief of Mechanical Systems and Signal Processing (MSSP) will deliver a talk on preparing high quality papers.
- Representatives from InnovateUK and the Royal Society will deliver a talk on amplification of international collaboration research funds.
- More to come

You can submit your papers online at:
